intended as sequel to the author s early study the obedience of faith a pauline phrase in historical context this book explores the interlocking themes of faith obedience and perseverance in the letter to the romans don garlington argues that paul s phrase the obedience of faith is designed to say two things at the same time that is an obedience which consists in faith and which is the outgrowth of faith s commitment to jesus christ the obedience of faith thus articulates both the inception of christian existence and its continuation in the perseverance of the believer the author reflects on romans 2 22 s allegation of disobedience sacrilege on the part of israel since paul s conception of faith s obedience stands in stark relief to the unbelieving disobedience of his jewish contemporaries it is only against the backdrop of his indictment of israel that aspects of his teaching emerge with tolerable clarity garlington also examines romans 2 13 only the doers of the law will be justified in eschatological judgment thus there is in paul s theology the idea of a future justification of the people of god which forms an analogue to their present justification and it is none other than the obedience of faith which provides the link between the two moments of justification romans 5 is focused on its portrayal of christ as the obedient last adam who ensures the obedience of faith of his people an exegesis of romans 7 14 25 approaches the obedience of faith from the angle of the christian s experience of the onslaught of the powers of this present evil age the ideals of the age to come as set out before are seen to be tempered by the realism of this period of overlapping aeons finally the author reflects on the theological and practical significance of the exegetical materials including a discussion of justification and sanctification in christian thought
