in the way of the cross caryll houselander accomplishes two things first by her imaginative re creation of the passion and death of our lord realized with intensity detail and depth she brings a drama of anguish and tragedy to our immediate awareness secondly she shows us the passion reflected in all human suffering we can no more be detached spectators of the passion than we can be detached spectators of the griefs and travails of the contemporary world as caryll houselander writes the part we are called to play is that of veronica coming forward to wipe the tears and sorrows from every stricken face we meet and each time we have the courage and compassion to do so we find the same image left on the veil these profound meditations on the stations of the cross allow the reader to walk in the footsteps of christ on that distant yet ever present good friday overview to help celebrate the fourth centenary of the birth of st john of the cross in 1542 edith stein received the task of preparing a study of his writings she uses her skill as a philosopher to enter into an illuminating reflection on the difference between the two symbols of cross and night pointing out how entering the night is synonymous with carrying the cross she provides a condensed presentation of john s thought on the active and passive nights as discussed in the ascent of mount carmel and the dark night all of this leads edith to speak of the glory of resurrection that the soul shares through a unitive contemplation described chiefly in the living flame of love in the summer of 1942 the nazis without warrant took edith away the nuns found the manuscript of this profound study lying open in her room because of the nazis merciless persecution of jews in germany edith stein traveled discreetly across the border into holland to find safe harbor in the carmel of echt but the nazi invasion of holland in 1940 again put edith in danger the cross weighed down heavily as those of jewish birth were harassed sr teresa benedicta of the cross s superiors then assigned her a task they thought would take her mind off the threatening situation the fourth centenary of the birth of st john of the cross 1542 was approaching and edith could surely contribute a valuable study for the celebration it is no surprise that in view of her circumstances she discovered in the subject of the cross a central viewpoint for her study a subject like this enabled her to grasp john s unity of being as expressed in his life and works using her training in phenomenology she helps the reader apprehend the difference in the symbolic character of cross and night and why the night symbol prevails in john she clarifies that detachment is designated by him as a night through which the soul must pass to reach union with god and points out how entering the night is equivalent to carrying the cross finally in a fascinating way edith speaks of how the heart or fountainhead of personal life an inmost region is present in both god and the soul and that in the spiritual marriage this inmost region is surrendered by each to the other she observes that in the soul seized by god in contemplation all that is mortal is consumed in the fire of eternal love the spirit as spirit is destined for immortal being to move through fire along a path from the cross of christ to the glory of his resurrection there was a providence of god to let us understand relativity through the tree of the knowledge of good and evil and become his true and spiritual children who can feel his heart this must have book provides clear answers to questions often asked by christians who are curious about things not directly addressed in the bible what was god the creator like before the beginning of time why did god create man and let him live on this earth why did god place the tree of the knowledge of good and evil in the garden of eden why did god send his one and only son as an atoning sacrifice why did god plan the providence of salvation through the rugged wooden cross these questions and more are resolved by dr jaerock lee the book consists of spirit filled messages of hope and salvation for all who have questions about what god wants from the faithful as preached by dr lee the knowledge provided in the message of the cross will enlighten you on the deep wide and great love god has for his creation
